Microsoft has used predatory practices at the deliberate expense of other companies to create a monopolistic situation. Many of the judgements that come out of this case will be used going forward on new cases and we need to make sure that a precedent is not set which allow companies to get away with this type of behavior. It impacts everyone of us in many ways. Even a billion dollar fine is insignificant to this company and will not justify the multi billions thay have made from it. I am also a Microsoft shareholder.
